Assessor

Real estate prices have gone up for the last two years. Our equalization rate is at 99% based on sales of real property. A few people have come in protest of their assessment and Lynn and Louise have tried to discuss how they arrive at the value. Lynn informed all that each property is evaluated and one of the things the appraisal is based upon is real estate sales.

Public Comments

David Paul and his attorney Mr. Rosenbaum were present to discuss the proposed amendment to the zoning law (affordable senior housing district) that they submitted to the Town. Mr. Rosenbaum thinks a senior mobile home community would be a good thing for the community. Many questions were discussed including grown children living with elderly parents, grandchildren living with grandparents, who would police this community, etc. Mr. Paul and Mr. Rosenbaum are willing to work with the Town Board, Planning Board and Attorney for the Town, Jeff Martin to get this moving.

Nathan Pace, Attorney for Tony Manno was present to discuss Mr. Manno's desire to open two independently owned businesses on Route 31 (the south side of the Fancher Road curve); 1) new and used automobile sales and rentals 2) motor vehicle repair and repair for small engine, motor cycles and possibly sales. There are three lots and Mr. Manno has a purchase contract for one and a long-term lease with an option to buy the two remaining lots. Mr. Pace did not have signed agreements on these properties or any drawn plan to be presented this evening but wanted to be open in what Mr. Manno intends to do and that he would like the Town to change the zoning of this area back to business district.

Ted Jenney, President of Kateland Farms stated that the proposed local law regarding events at farms and wineries was negative to the farmer. His attorney advised him to go ahead and host weddings at his barn as his attorney believes they are covered under the Right to Farm Law.

Art Knab asked if the sunken areas from the water line construction will be fixed. He was told that those areas will be fixed but it has been difficult with the rain we've had.

David Piedmonte stated that he was trying to understand the purpose of the proposed local law regarding events at farms and wineries. Jeff Martin said the motivation behind this proposed law was to allow an operation like Mr. Jenney's, which currently is not legally authorized, to operate legally. The Right to Farm Law that was adopted in 2001 has to do with more traditional farming operations; cultivation, raising crops, livestock, stables, horse boarding, etc. It has nothing to do with weddings and special events.

Joe Sidonio encouraged the Town Board to take advantage of the Town's Planning Board member who is on the Town's Agricultural Advisory Committee. Mr. Sidonio's wife is also on the NYS Ag. Advisory Committee to the Governor. Why not take advantage of discussing this with her. Mr. Sidonio asked if the Town would be willing to write a letter stating that Hurd Orchards is exempt from this law. He was told there is no reason for a letter stating that Hurd Orchards is exempt from a law that does not at all apply to them.
